Dr Steve Williams has lectured extensively in the USA, Australia and Europe on the subject of paediatrics and craniopathy. He has helped to develop and teach the MSc APD Chiropractic Paediatrics at the AECC and authored the book "Pregnancy and Paediatrics: A Chiropractic Approach". Steve presents a 36 hour certification course at Logan Chiropractic College in the USA. This popular seminar series has been run in Southampton for the past four years and has always sold out quickly – so book early to avoid disappointment.

Typical selection of 2009 course critiques: "... best seminar I've ever been on, both in value for money and what I've learnt". "Applicable to everyone, not just pregnant ladies. Skills that can be implemented immediately". "Fantastic delivery, good balance, great workshops" "The lunch and healthy snacks were awesome!". "Everything! Very inspiring". "The freedom of discussion around the topics of the seminar". "It held my attention and was also fun". "Excellent anatomy teaching – good explanation of how the adjustments work". "Spot on organisation".

Steve has a good understanding both of his subject and of effective teaching aids and techniques. He presents an astonishing amount of material in a very accessible format which is suitable for all types of learning styles, creating a relaxed atmosphere which is conducive to learning. He encourages questions throughout the sessions where clarification is needed. Feedback from the course appraisal forms frequently comment very positively on Steve's clarity, depth of knowledge, excellent delivery, the value of the practical sessions and so on even the food and abundant healthy snacks provided get a mention!
